Charles Czerwinski, Who Operated Vehicle, Also Injured in Accident Here Last Night

Auto Dealer

Was Pioneer Stationer and Automobile Dealer in This City

William M. Davis, 74, of 55 Washington avenue, for years one of the leading automobile dealers of Kingston, and pioneer wholesale and retail stationer, was fatally injured at 10:50 o'clock Tuesday night when he was struck and knocked down by a motorcycle operated by Charles Czerwinski, 22, of R.F.D. 1, Box 126, of the Rosendale road. Mr. Czerwinski suffered a compound fracture of the left leg, between the knee and the ankle and contusions of the right shoulder.

Both men were removed to the Benedictine Hospital following the accident, in the Conner ambulance. Mr. Davis died in the hospital at 5:15 o'clock this morning.

District Attorney N. LeVan Haver was notified of Mr. Davis' death by the police department, and ordered an autopsy performed by Dr. J. S. Taylor and Dr. Maurice H. Silk.

The question of whether an inquest would be held in the death of Mr. Davis will depend upon the results of an investigation of the accident which is now being made by the police department, the district attorney said.

It was shortly before 11 o'clock last night that the police department received a telephone call stating a pedestrian had been struck on Washington avenue, between Pearl and Janet streets.

Officers Hyatt and Van Aken in one of the police radio cars responded and made a preliminary investigation.

The police also talked with Czerwinski at the hospital and he told them, according to the police, that he was driving down Washington avenue on his motorcycle at a speed of between 25 and 30 miles an hour. He said that when about 25 feet away he saw Mr. Davis step off the curb into the road, and that he swung his machine to the left to avoid hitting him. The right side of the motorcycle, however, struck Mr. Davis, knocking him to the pavement.

Czerwinski said that Davis was walking almost diagonally across the street at the time. As the motorcycle upset Czerwinski's leg was pinned under it. The machine was not damaged badly.

Pioneer Stationer
Mr. Davis was born April 26, 1868, in Kingston and had resided here all his life. He is survived by his wife, the former Miss Elizabeth Deyo. Funeral services will be held from the parlors of A. Carr & Son, 1 Pearl street, on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be in Wiltwyck cemetery at the convenience of the family.

Mr. Davis for years was a member of Forsyth & Davis, Inc., and the Forsyth & Davis Motor Car Co., Inc.
For years Mr. Davis was actively identified with the firm of Forsyth & Wilson, stationers, who occupied the Charles Kerr store in the Ulster County Savings Institution building on Wall street, opposite the court house, and later when Mr. Wilson retired from the business, Mr. Davis, formerly an employee of the concern, was invited back from the Remington Typewriter firm in New York to take charge of the activities of the bookstore.

Mr. Davis with his additional New York experience, made good at once. The business began to broaden and the firm became Forsyth & Davis, Inc., moving to the other side of Wall street, next door to the George B. Styles & Son jewelry store, adjoining the State of New York National Bank.

Rubber Collection Householders Urged to Put Out Scrap Rubber in Special Container

Enough rubber was collected by the Department of Public Works in Kingston last week to make 185 gas masks for the use of American soldiers and 10 pneumatic rafts which are carried by our long range bombers as a safety measure in the event of a forced landing at sea, according to information received from George Goodfellow, chairman of the Kingston Salvage Committee.

Max Oppenheimer, acting superintendent of streets, has been appointed special chairman of rubber collection division of the salvage committee. Mr. Oppenheimer urged all householders to put out any scrap rubber articles in a special container at a time when their ash collections are usually made. These rubber articles will

Hercules Health For Victory Club Meeting Tuesday

Formed to Familiarize Employees With Best Marketing Practices, Meal Preparation

About 300 members of the Hercules Powder Company's Health for Victory Club were welcomed to their open meeting Tuesday night in the Municipal Auditorium by E. P. Rochford, superintendent of this local war production plant, by whom the club was organized. This is the first Health for Victory Club organized on the eastern seaboard, except those held for plants of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, the originator of a nationwide nutrition program in the interest of war workers. Membership in the Hercules Powder Company's club is open to employees and adult members of their families, and the club was formed so that they might become familiar with the best practices in marketing and meal preparation to provide the greatest health values.

Mayor William F. Edelmutz has generously donated the use of the municipal auditorium for the monthly meetings of the club, the activities of which are in charge of Jennie Lucchese, R.N., the local Hercules Company nurse.
This Health for Victory Club is being conducted in co-operation with the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation. The company's home service director, Rita Abruzzese, who recently attended special nutrition classes at the Westinghouse Home Economics Institute at Mansfield, Ohio, opened the series of club meetings on health-building meals last night, assisted by Grace Diebig of New York city, district home economist for the Westinghouse Company. The monthly meetings will be conducted by Miss Abruzzese, and during the month club members are invited to discuss individual marketing and meal-planning problems with Lucyetta Sothen, the Central Hudson home service representative for the Kingston district. She will be available for personal conferences every Wednesday and Thursday afternoon from 1:30 to 4:30 o'clock at the company office, Carol Collier, the utility company's Family News radio reporter, who was introduced to the club members last evening, will broadcast Health for Victory recipes each morning on her women's program which goes on the air over three stations, including WKNY, from Monday through Friday. Following the club's regular nutrition program, two numbers are sung by a group of Hercules employees, led by Roscoe B. Smith of the engineering department.

In greeting the Hercules Health for Victory Club members, Superintendent Rochford complimented them on their eagerness to do their part in America's war effort by joining this club devoted to health-building nutrition for war workers. "You are producing vital war materials," Mr. Rochford said. "You are making things that our Army and Navy and our allies must have in order to win the war. You are the men and women behind the men behind the guns. You are working hard—and are doing a grand job." He stressed the importance of nutrition in helping the war worker keep up the good work, and said that the homemakers had an important job—serving the right kind of food properly prepared. Donald M. Nelson, the

U. S. And Britain Will Pool Their Food And Arms

Washington, June 10 (AP)—The United States and the United Kingdom will pool their food and weapons in a new war collaboration arrangement.

Two American-British, two-man boards have been established to accomplish the pooling. Donald M. Nelson and Oliver Lyttelton, British production minister, make up the combined production and resources board charged with directing the weapons of both British and American factories in a "single integrated program." Secretary of Agriculture Wickard and H. R. Brand, head of the British food mission here, make up the combined food board.

Announcements by President Roosevelt in Washington and Prime Minister Churchill in London told of the new arrangement yesterday.

Petaín Convinced Axis Cannot Win, Vichy Now Reveals

Laval Is Still Holding Contrary View, Says American Who Met Him Recently

By WADE WERNER

Washington, June 10 (AP)—Two years of war since Dunkerque have convinced Chief of State Marshal Petaín that the Axis cannot win, authoritative reports from Vichy revealed today.

There was a time after the fall of France in 1940 when Petaín regarded a German victory as inevitable; but now, these reports said, the old marshal is convinced Germany and her allies will be defeated.

Vichy's collaborationist Chief of Government Laval, however, still holds the contrary view. An American observer who recently talked with him quoted Laval as saying Germany could not be defeated and, moreover, that it would be a disaster for Europe if England and Soviet Russia won.

Reliable informants in Vichy report that Admiral Jean Darlan, chief of the Vichy government's armed forces, holds a somewhat similar opinion.

Informants in close touch with developments around Petaín pictured the aged chief of state as a patriot surrounded by intrigues and exposed to pressure from German authorities, yet laboring to protect the integrity of France.

The French people are fully aware of the tragic handicap under which Petaín is striving to relieve their suffering, this informant said. They know that Petaín was forced by the Germans to accept Laval as his chief of government, possibly by threatening to occupy all of France.

German pressure is reported to involve many other threats of dire consequences for the French if they fail to collaborate. These include even threats of reprisal against French prisoners of war in Germany. Some Frenchmen fear particularly the possibility that these 1,500,000 prisoners in German hands might be maltreated or starved.

There are limits to what the Axis could accomplish by such pressure, however. As outlined in authoritative reports received here these limits are Hitler's reluctance to undertake a complete occupation of France, with the vast increase in troops of occupation such a move would make necessary; and Hitler's equal reluctance to provoke revolution in France at the very time he hopes to squeeze the utmost in war production out of French workers.

"Our large cities and our important manufacturing plants located west from Albany to Buffalo," he stated, "are as near to some enemy air bases, measured on a great circle of the globe, as is our great city of New York."

"There are many vitally sensitive points in upstate New York that invite hostile enemy action," he added, promising that "New

Synthetic Rubber Is Made in Ten Seconds

Goodrich Official Also Demonstrates Tires in Which Product Had Been Used

Washington, June 10 (AP)—To the expressed astonishment of senators, who had just been told that the B. F. Goodrich Company planned ultimately to produce 165,000 tons of synthetic rubber annually, a company executive compounded some in 10 seconds today and bounced it on the floor.

K. D. Smith of Akron, O., assistant to the vice president in charge of factory operations, poured what he called "liquid amperipol latex" into a beaker, added acetic acid, squeezed the surplus liquid out, and bounced the ball.

Senator McNary (R., Ore.) commented with a grin: "I'll be darned. That's pretty good." Smith said that 20 cents a pound would be a "very fair" price for the synthetic rubber and demonstrated to the Senate agriculture subcommittee a number of tires in which it had been used.

He said that tests showed the synthetic casings had about 90 per cent of the durability of tires made from natural rubber.

To preserve military secrets, Smith did not disclose the exact locations of the plants to be operated by Goodrich. One, he said, is to be in Kentucky and two in Texas. All are expected to be in operation by next June 1.

In addition to the 100 per cent synthetic tires, Smith exhibited one containing about 55 per cent artificial rubber. He testified it had been driven 24,127 miles on an airport station wagon and still was capable of further service.

Japan Admits Loss of Carrier, Damage to Two Ships in Midway Fight

Britain's Bombings Meet Requirements For Second Front

Aerial Bombardment One of Most Important Developments of This Conflict

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Wide World War Analyst
Britain's unprecedented big-scale bombings of Hitler's domains in western Europe undoubtedly are fulfilling many of the requirements that would be expected of the second land-front for which a lot of people in the allied countries have been clamoring as an immediate aid to Russia.

One hastens to add that this doesn't mean the land offensive should be dispensed with. The second front will come in due course. Still, this terrific aerial bombardment represents one of the most important developments of the war and lends weight to the startling prediction by Britain's Air Chief Marshal A. T. Harris in London yesterday.

"A lot of people," said he, "generally those with no qualifications to speak (if to think), are in the habit of reiterating the silly phrase: 'Bombing can never win a war.' We shall see. It hasn't been tried yet and Germany, more and more desperately clinging to her widespread conquests and still foolishly striving for more, will make a most interesting subject for the initial experiment. Japan can be used to provide the confirmation, but don't expect too much just yet. There is work to do first—and a great deal of it."

That statement is a bold challenge to ultra-conservative military leaders not to get behind the procession. This is a rapidly changing war, in which science is producing quick shifts. The advance in the striking-power of the air arms is one of the most remarkable.

We can't afford to base judgment on long past air performances. For instance, at the outset of the war there were those in high positions who pooh-poohed the idea that warships, especially battleships, were vulnerable to air attack. They clung stubbornly to this thesis until disasters visited upon allied warships demonstrated how terribly wrong they were. For a fine demonstration of what air power can do, check our big victory at Midway.

One cogent argument for a second front in western Europe is that in order to bring Germany to her knees the Nazi army must be knocked out. That probably is true, but there's more than one way of skinning a cat. There could be no more effective method of hamstringing an army than to cut it off from all military supplies, say through the destruction of the railroads by bombing on the scale now being carried out by the Royal Air Force.

Bitter Fate of Cologne

Take for example the bitter fate of ancient Cologne. British bombers utterly destroyed eight square miles of the great Rhenish city and caused widespread damage to the rest of it. It will be long before Cologne rises from its ashes.

Now that awe-inspiring devastation represents a few hours work by one-third the number of planes which the allies propose to use soon to wipe out the Nazi industrial centers. London has indicated that the raids will increase in size and that when the United States Air Corps gets into action over there three or four thousand planes will be used as compared

Nelson Warns of Possible Long War

Production Chief Declares We Are Going to Smother Axis

Hannibal, Mo., June 10 (AP)—While warning that the nation may be facing a long war, production chief Donald M. Nelson believes that Americans are "going to literally smother the Axis powers with production."

Here for a homecoming celebration which returned him to the scenes of his childhood for the first time in 25 years, Nelson last night predicted an American victory.

"Much as we would hope that it will be over soon, America must be prepared for a long war. In any event, long or short, democracy will win."

Hitler would not have started on his present ordeal had he not believed democracy was dead. Democracy is not a dead thing. Because we are a peace-loving nation, Hitler thought we had lost the fire in our souls. He didn't know how the people in the Hannibal, Missouri all over the country would react.

"When they saw the job to do, the workmen went out to do it. Work will win this war. We are going to literally smother the Axis powers with production."

"I don't know the limit of production in this country, but we are going to push it to the limit, the war production boss emphasized in his extemporaneous message at a banquet of long-time Hannibal friends and several thousand other persons.

On his way to his seat at the dinner table, Nelson paused to give a resounding kiss to his second grade school teacher, Mrs. Fidelia Martz, now of Joplin, Mo.

Tokyo Also Reports Jap Army Troops Were Used in Attacking Aleutian Islands Sunday

Battle of Crimea

Conflicting Reports Are Given of Intense Battle Going On

By ROGER D. GREENE

(Associated Press War Editor)
Imperial Tokyo headquarters sought to minimize the gravity of the Japanese naval disaster at Midway today but acknowledged that United States forces had sunk an aircraft carrier, heavily damaged another carrier and damaged a cruiser.

Official United States reports have listed 16 possible 18 Japanese warships sunk or damaged before the enemy fleet limped off in retreat.

Moreover, an eye-witness account by Ensign George H. Gay, Jr., 25-year-old U. S. navy flier, declared three of Japan's aircraft carriers, including two of the 26,000-ton Kaga-Akagi class, were seen to burst into flames under attack by American torpedo planes. Tokyo did not specify the class of the carrier it admitted lost.

Tokyo headquarters also reported that Japanese army troops were used in attacking the U. S.-owned Aleutian Islands off Alaska on Sunday, Tokyo time, (Saturday, Alaska time)—three days after the Dutch Harbor raids—and declared they "are continuing operations in this area."

Battle in the Crimea

Adolf Hitler's field headquarters asserted today that German troops had stormed deeper into the fortifications of Sevastopol, last Soviet stronghold in the Crimea, while the Russians said they had littered the battlefield with 2,500 Nazi dead in yesterday's fighting alone.

Soviet dispatches said the Red armies had not yielded "a single line" to the Germans although the fight was growing hourly more intense, with the Nazis incessantly attacking by land and air.

Red Star, the Soviet army newspaper, conceded that German infantry had penetrated to a hilly sector, where it was trying to capture two heights, but declared that the battle generally still raged at the approaches to the city without major change.

Today marked the sixth day of furious assault by German forces which have besieged the great Black Sea naval base for more than seven months.

A Soviet communique said Sevastopol's defense batteries scattered a German infantry regiment, killed many of its men, knocked out two dozen German tanks and 26 planes, and checked the Nazi offensive.

North African Front

On the North African front, both the German and Italian communique admitted that a German-Germany, Neil Ritchie's armies, supported by American-made tanks and planes, were heavily counter-attacking.

British Imperial headquarters said an 11th Axis assault on Bir Hacheim, southern anchor of the 50-mile British defense line, had been driven off despite the fact that German Field Marshal Erwin Rommel threw in "an increased number of tanks, dive bombers, infantry and artillery."

British armored and motorized columns bolstered the Free French garrison in repulsing the attack.

British mobile columns were reported hacking steadily at Rommel's vital supply lines west of the main battle sector around Tobruk.

For the first time the British disclosed that United States-built Baltimore bombers (Glenn Martin 187's) have gone into action in (Continued on Page 11)

Soil Specialist Says Sulphur Helps

Use Will Acidify Soils for Blueberry Culture

Geneva, N. Y., June 10—Soils in New York state otherwise well adapted to the growing of blueberries but being too low in acidity for the successful culture of this fruit can be effectively and cheaply acidified by the use of sulfur, declares Prof. R. C. Collison, soil specialist at the Experiment Station here.

"It is well first to know your soil thoroughly before attempting acidification on any extensive scale and the Experiment Station will be glad to check and advise on these matters," says Professor Collison, who continues, "It is our belief that there are many soils in the state which meet the requirements for the blueberry near enough in other ways that the matter of proper acidity may be handled economically."

Studies of natural blueberry soils and experiments carried on by Professor Collison indicate that blueberries require a distinctly acid soil. The optimum lies close to pH 4.5, and it is to meet and maintain this degree of acidity that the treatment outlined is designed. Soils which are already slightly acid, neutral, or even slightly alkaline can be kept at a satisfactory acidity level, providing they do not contain any carbonate reserve. Soils which contain any appreciable amount of carbonate in their surface layers or are underlain with limestone at a depth of 12 to 24 inches cannot be kept sufficiently acid for blueberries without incurring on outlay that would be wholly impractical, says Professor Collison.

Finely ground sulfur of a grade known as 325-mesh dusting sulfur is recommended as the cheapest and most practical material to use to acidify soils for blueberry culture. The amount required will depend upon the type of soil and its present acidity. It will require about a year to bring most soils to the proper stage of acidity. Detailed information on the operation may be obtained by forwarding a sample of the soil to be treated to Professor Collison at the Experiment Station.

Divine Follower Is Conscientious Objector, He Says

Local Draft Board, No. 314, of Saugerties, has come in contact with its first conscientious objector in the present selective service draft, according to the Saugerties Post, which reports that the objector is Unison Heart, a negro follower of Father Divine, the negro cult leader, and a resident of Hope Farm, West Saugerties.

Heart declared himself a conscientious objector on the grounds that his religious convictions and principles were at variance with war.

The board ordered Heart assigned to the objectors' work camp at Stoddard, N. H., as required by law. Heart was ordered to report at the Saugerties bus terminal on May 27, to leave for camp.

Heart reported. However, on arrival at the bus terminal he refused to go to the camp and this left the matter in the lap of the draft board, which have advised the U. S. District Attorney of New York of Heart's refusal to comply with the draft law, and such action will be taken against him as the government's legal procedure requires.

He is the only draftee of the local board, to date, who has refused to enter U. S. service.

New Efficient Hauling of Milk

Economist Says Changes
Must Be Made

Ithaca, N. Y., June 10 — An indication of how milk is hauled to country plants, and of possible changes to conserve tires and trucks, is afforded in a study of 416 patrons at four milk plants in Broome and Cortland counties.

Of the 416 dairymen, 85 hauled their own milk only; 51 hauled their own and also milk for one or more neighbors; and 280 hired their milk trucked to the plant.

At each of three plants, only one horse-drawn vehicle brought in milk; at the fourth plant five horse-drawn wagons arrived daily.

Stewart Johnson, of the department of agricultural economics at Cornell University, was in charge of the study. He makes these observations:

"It is imperative that milk be hauled efficiently to country plants. More exchange hauling, less hauling by the individual, better organized truck routes, and trucks loaded more nearly to capacity, are some changes that would help promote efficient assembly of milk."

The average rate paid, for the 280 patrons who hired their milk hauled, was about 12 cents a hundred pounds. Some truckers charge a uniform rate throughout the year, while others charged more from November through April than from May through October. A few charged monthly rates regardless of the amount of milk hauled.

Dewey, Bennett Are Out in Front

As Candidates in Current Gubernatorial Race

New York, June 10 (AP)—As of today State Attorney General John J. Bennett, Jr., and former New York District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey seem to be out in front to carry the Democratic and Republican batons, respectively, in this year's gubernatorial race.

Political circles think Dewey will be the choice of Republicans, while Frank J. Kelly, powerful Brooklyn Democratic leader, yesterday declared that Kings county's 193 delegates would vote for Bennett instead of following their usual practice of going uncommitted to the state convention. It's still early in the game and this week may see more concrete developments.

Last night in Albany, Governor Lehman, who has announced he would not be a candidate for re-election, disclosed he was going to Washington late this week to discuss the state political situation with President Roosevelt.

What Lehman will say about Bennett is not known, but observers here contend Kelly never would have endorsed him until sentiment had grown upstate and until some indication had come from the White House on the President's feelings for Bennett.

Tammany Chieftain Michael J. Kennedy visited Mr. Roosevelt in Washington yesterday and reported the Chief Executive seemed "very friendly" toward the attorney general.

Bennett's chances were considered somewhat cloudy around Capitol Hill in Albany, despite Kelly's action in Brooklyn.

State capital observers expressed the opinion that some Bennett endorsements might not hold unless President Roosevelt actually does back the attorney general, while Lieutenant Governor Charles Poletti also entered the picture.

Two New York city newspapers have said that Poletti would not be selected for re-election on the Democratic ticket, but the lieutenant governor yesterday termed such reports "not true."

Poletti's part in the coming campaign may be cleared after Lehman sees the President.

Meanwhile a possible dark horse in the race is Wendell Willkie, 1940 Republican presidential candidate, whose plans are not known but who has been mentioned in some quarters here as a likely figure in the scramble for the governor's chair.

It's still a long time until the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November.

No Urban Congestion In Post-War America

Cambridge, Mass., June 10 (AP)—Two internationally-known Harvard architects, creators of many famous buildings in Germany, envisioned today a post-war America in which urban congestion would be relieved by new townships of about 5,000 people, ranged along a network of "super-highways," and consisting of low-cost, prefabricated houses costing as little as $1,800.

They are Dr. Walter Gropius, noted exponent of modern architecture whose school of design once was denounced as "oriental" by Adolf Hitler; and Dr. Martin Wagner, former architectural adviser to the city of Berlin and to the Turkish government.

In interviews at an exhibit on post-war planning at Harvard, they said city slums could be cleared and a new era inaugurated for millions of industrial workers and farmers by the establishment of tiny, factory-residential towns that would be surrounded by individual farm belts. They declared the towns could be built by a government-backed "resettlement corporation," formed after the pattern of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Here are some of the theoretical details:

Everyone would walk to work in the factories, because the community would be only a mile in diameter, and "walking pathways" would be arranged so that no one would have to cross a main highway to get to work or school.

You could set up housekeeping in a three-room unit, but if your family became larger, you'd get in touch with the pre-fabricated house people, and a truck would come with another bed-room.

The original cost of the home would be at a minimum, the architects said, because the houses would be turned out in mass production. Two shifts would be run in "smoke-free" factories, allowing smaller, more economical plants. And, the farmer could sell his produce to his neighbors.

Savings and Loan Assets Reach an All-Time High

Saranac Inn, N. Y., June 10 (AP)—Assets of New York Savings and Loan Associations reached an all-time high last year to record a six-year gain of $119,477,140, an official of the State League of Savings and Loan Associations disclosed today.

The first four months of 1942, however, Zebulon V. Woodward, the league's executive vice-president, said, show a "small but un-alarming" decrease in both savings and loans. He attributed this to the nation's abrupt transition to war economy.

In a prepared address at the league's 55th convention, Woodward reported assets last year totaled $476,058,641, or $28,570,978 more than on December 31, 1940.

The savings decrease the first four months this year was $6,502,667, he reported, compared to the same 1941 period, while the loans dropped $1,289,441. Despite this, there was an increase in members this year.

The 1941 assets increase over 1940 Woodward considered "noteworthy" because reports showed a loss of four associations in 1941. At the end of last year there were 258 associations in the state.

Rowland Selected For 'Boys State' By Local Legion

A committee representing both Kingston High School and Kingston Post 150, American Legion, of which Stanley H. Dempsey is commander, met at the Memorial Building, 18 West O'Reilly street, to pass upon essential requirements entailed in the selection of a high school student to attend the Legion's 'Boys State' as a guest of the local Legion Post.

The committee, consisting of George E. Kenney, representing Kingston High School; Joseph Sill, chairman of local 'Boys State'; Post Commander Stanley H. Dempsey; Gus S. Paulson, post adjutant; and Jack Rabin, chairman on Americanism, accepted the voting results of the school student body placing Harry Rowland, president of the junior class, as their candidate to 'Boys State'. Leland Boice was chosen as first alternate, with Donald Shultis as second alternate.

The 'Boys State', according to

Jack Rabin, was originated by the Department of Illinois in 1935. Its success in teaching in a practical manner the obligations and duties in citizenship has been responsible for the expansion of this activity. In the 'Boys State' selected students are required, under proper tutelage to form a mythical '49th State' and thus learn the mechanics of the American form of self-government from the ground up.

Swimming, rowing, baseball, and overnight hikes under expert leadership form part of the program.

Not on Speaking Terms

New York, June 10 (AP)—Members of the Esplan family of Brooklyn were very happy today but they're not on speaking terms. The paradox involves George Esplan and his two sons, Bengt, 10, and Holger, 9. When the exchange ship Gripsholm arrived yesterday from Sweden, George was waiting eagerly for the boys he had sent on a visit to their grandparents in Stockholm four years ago. As the lads dashed down the gangplank and greeted their father, George found they spoke only Swedish, which he has forgotten.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JUNE 10, 1942

ACTION NEEDED AT ONCE

Prompt action on the part of the city authorities and the business interests of Kingston is needed if the Pilgrim Furniture Company is to continue in operation here. The concern is forced to vacate its plant on Grand street, which is being taken over for the use of the Electrol, Inc., Aircraft Division, engaged in manufacturing airplane parts for the U. S. Navy.

For the present the Pilgrim Company is planning to lease several smaller buildings in the city in which to locate the various units of the industry, but this plan will hardly prove feasible over a long period of time.

The plant has been occupying a building with 60,000 square feet of floor space, and all of it is in use. The plant employs more than hundred men and has a payroll of $100,000 a year.

Kingston needs plants that employ men, and this is a going concern as it has been located in Kingston for more than five years. The concern needs a new inexpensive building erected on one of the vacant plots of ground adjoining the West Shore railroad tracks.

To erect such a building requires funds. Undoubtedly the concern would be perfectly willing to contribute a share toward the erection of a new building.

Mayor William F. Edelmuth, if interested in seeing to it that this plant remains in operation in Kingston, should immediately take steps toward calling a meeting of all business men of the city to discuss what action can be taken.

The Pilgrim Company located in Kingston during the depression years and has been operating ever since. It is giving work to men and boys of the city. Boys who are just out of high school are afforded an opportunity of obtaining work at the plant without being forced to leave the city seeking employment elsewhere.

Wages to boys of 16 years and upwards start at $16 a week and after the boys have been working for several months they are employed on piece work, and many of them are reported as making as high as $30 a week.

In calling this conference it would seem wise to invite the management of the Pilgrim Company to meet with the city's representative business men and discuss the problems confronting the plant and how the situation can best be met.

DESTROYING A RACE

The most terrible thing in Europe probably is the plight of the Jews in Germany and in the countries under Nazi domination. It is so distressing that sensitive people who cannot help the situation hesitate even to talk about it, and so the destruction of an ancient race goes on steadily in comparative silence.

There is no telling how many Hebrew men, women and children have been destroyed by Hitler and the young Germans he has trained to cruelty and murder. If those deliberately starved to death are numbered with the victims of wholesale assassination, they may run into millions. William L. Shirer tells of listening to Nazi soldiers in a cafe, boasting of their exploits in killing Poles. They told with gleeful pride how they went out casually to "hunt Jews" for sport, shooting them on the streets and highways as casually as they would shoot rabbits in the fields. Evidently it was not mere pretense, but a common practice, countenanced and even encouraged by the German military authorities.

To such degradation and inhumanity has Hitler brought a generation of young Germans. They can be defeated in war, and peace can be restored, but how long will it take for such barbarism and cruelty to be trained out of the German mind? There is one of the big peace problems, for Germany herself and for her neighbors.

NAMES

Rising Sun, Ohio, is a village in the northwestern part of the state that goes back a long time. After various changes of name, it adopted its present title in 1874, because of its situation in the eastern part of its county. Now some superpatriots have discovered that Japan is the Land of the Rising Sun, and say that the village should change its name.

The mayor has some sensible ideas about this. "When," said he, "the state of Ohio leaves the rising sun off its seal, and when the sun ceases to rise over the eastern hills, then it will be time for our village to think of a change in name."

In times like these, some people always leap to the foreground with loud demands for insignificant changes. Generations of Americans had been reared on sauerkraut with no damage to their patriotism, but in the last war some bright boys thought it would help to win the war if the name were altered to Liberty Cabbage. This was done. But General Pershing's memoirs do not list this among the causes for the break in the German front.

BOTTLED STOCKINGS

Feminine stockings, alias hose, seem to be taking on a new form or manifestation. According to reliable information, they are now poured out of a bottle. Not for drinking, of course. It would be wonderful if that were possible, and a sip or a gulp of something could blow off a soiled pair and blow on the fresh ones. That consummation may come in the course of evolution. But for the present, it does well enough just to take a bottle and a brush and, with a few deft motions, paint them on. Or maybe varnish is the word. Experts say the new application can hardly be told from the real article, and one bottle will make 50 pairs.

Supercilious males used to say women lacked ingenuity and imagination! It's up to men now to produce bottled collars and gloves.

There's said to be rubber in dandelions, too. Now who'll be so patriotic as to let 'em grow on the lawn?

Don Nelson says that "Waste Is Treason." The patriot's motto: Thrift with Reason.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

SEEING INSIDE OF THE ABDOMEN

There are cases where the physician or surgeon wishes to see the condition of the abdominal organs. For this purpose what is known as an exploratory incision is made, that is an opening is made in the abdominal wall and the surgeon explores as gently as possible the position and condition of the various organs—liver, gall bladder, stomach, intestines, pancreas, kidneys, uterus, and other organs.

However, as every surgical operation, even an exploratory incision, may cause shock, a method of getting information regarding the abdominal organs without the shock of surgical operation is now available.

I have spoken before of the gastroscope which permits the physician to see the inner surface of the stomach. It is now possible to see the inside lining of the abdomen and its organs—peritoneum—by means of the peritoneoscope.

Dr. W. E. Garrey, Boston, in the New England Medical Journal, reports the use of this method in 75 cases, and Dr. Charles B. Olim, Memphis, reports only one death in 150 cases.

This method—peritoneoscopy—is especially useful in cases of suspected hardening (cirrhosis) of the liver, cancer of the liver, tuberculosis of the peritoneum, tumors in abdomen and in pelvis, and for determining whether or not it is safe to operate in cancer of the stomach.

By means of a local anesthetic a small opening is made below the navel (umbilicus) and the abdomen filled with air. The peritoneoscope is then inserted through an enlarged opening and the physician is able, in the majority of cases, to see most of the surface of the liver, gall bladder, stomach, intestine and organs down in pelvis.

After the examination has been made by means of the peritoneoscope, which is not unlike a telescope in appearance, the air is removed which assures comfort to the patient and avoids shock.

Dr. Olim reports that the peritoneoscope was correct in its findings in 40 of 44 cases and Dr. Garrey reports it correct in 55 of 75 cases. Specimens of tissue were obtained in some cases for examination under the microscope. If no specimens were taken, the patient need not remain in the hospital more than ten or twelve hours.

This method of examination will make it possible to find the cause of the symptoms in many of the cases where exploratory operation may not be safe.

Murphy to Leave Supreme Court And Join Army

Washington, June 10 (AP)—Associate Justice Frank Murphy is leaving the Supreme Court temporarily, associates said today, to become a lieutenant colonel in the army.

Attaches of the high court reported that he would take the oath of office at the war department later today and would leave shortly thereafter for Fort Benning, Ga., for four months of intensive training in the field and then would spend six weeks in the advanced school of infantry at Fort Benning.

He is to be attached to the office of the chief of staff, General George C. Marshall.

It was said at the court that Justice Murphy would not resign but would be absent "for the duration."

Murphy, 49, saw overseas service in the last war. When the United States entered that war, he entered an officers training school and in 1918 went overseas as captain in the 85th division.

He served with the Army of Occupation in Germany until March, 1919.

The bachelor jurist took his Supreme Court seat on February 1, 1940, after serving a year as attorney general.

He was appointed to succeed the late Justice Pierce Butler of Minnesota.

LaGuardia to Ask for Increase in Gas Supply

New York, June 10 (AP)—Mayor LaGuardia left for Washington today by plane to ask for an increase in the gasoline supply for the metropolitan area and New England.

"I am going to ask for a more equitable distribution of the gas rationing burden," he said. "I believe we can increase the supply for this section and New England."

LaGuardia said he would attend a hearing in Washington before the Senate committee on inland waterways to discuss the possibility of shipping oil to this area via the Mississippi river, Great Lakes and Erie canal.

He said that if the route were used ocean-going tankers could be sent to Albany to pick up oil from Erie canal barges.

Gasoline ration cards are being issued in parts of Bolivia.

Russians Are Not Yielding Single Line to Germans

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
Moscow, June 10 (AP)—The Russian defenders of Sevastopol have not yielded a "single line" to the Germans although the fight for the besieged Crimean port hourly grows more intense, with the Germans incessantly attacking by land and in the air, Soviet reports declared today.

Dispatches to Red Star, Russian army newspaper, frankly said the German infantry had penetrated to a hilly sector, where the Nazis were trying to take two heights. But these reports added that the battle generally still raged at those approaches to the city about which it began last Friday.

"Not a single line held by the defenders of the city has been seized by the enemy," the Red Star dispatch said.

In the air, the reports added, German planes have broken through Soviet defenses at some points to bomb fortifications.

The Germans followed their favorite course of massing powerful aerial forces in a narrow sector to obtain full mastery of the skies and pound ground troops into submission but Red Star said the Russian air force constantly engaged the enemy.

Along the low, barren hills around Sevastopol, the Russians said, approaches to Red army fortifications were covered with "thousands of bodies" over which the Germans rushed repeatedly for fierce assaults.

After taking Kerch, on the eastern tip of the Crimea, the German command apparently aimed to conquer Sevastopol at any cost and complete the occupation of the peninsula.

Red Star said the Germans struggled for three days to approach the two heights but the Red army finally checked a Nazi infantry attempt to advance at night. The battle was reported continuing in those areas and fighting was reported on virtually every sector of the Sevastopol front.

Synthetic Rubber Made in 10 Seconds tires, hot water bottles, etc.—would be undertaken soon in an effort to determine whether there was enough rubber lying around to make national curbs on automobile driving unnecessary.

No one knows just how much reclaimable scrap is available, he said, and the only way to find out is to gather it all up. Until then, he indicated, there will be no nationwide gasoline rationing as a tire-saving measure.

The President likened the gasoline-rubber situation to a mystery novel, and said he did not know how it would end.

The poinsettia plant, familiar scarlet and yellow Christmas decoration, was put forth as a likely source of rubber by a Californian, who wrote Senator Norris (Ind.-Neb.) that it "produces the best known type of rubber, in great quantities, up to two tons per acre."

"Acres per acre," the Californian wrote, "Poinsettia will produce ten times the rubber that guayule will, with less resin content, and matures within a year. After the stalks are cut for rubber extraction, the root will again stalk every year for many years."

The Californian's suggestion was one of dozens received by various lawmakers interested in a speedy solution of the rubber shortage.

Other suggested sources include milkweed, goldenrod, sunflowers and numerous garden and farm crops capable of conversion into alcohol, which in turn can be made into butadiene, an important component of buna synthetic rubber.

Norris said he did not know whether Poinsettia would prove a practical source of rubber, but that it might be worth looking into.

Pilgrim Co. To Vacate by July 8

Two views are shown above of the interior of the Pilgrim Furniture Co., which has to vacate its plant in the former Lorillard building, adjoining Electrol, Inc., Aircraft Division, by midnight on July 8. The furniture concern is using 60,000 square feet of floor space which is needed by the Electrol concern busy with building airplane parts for the U. S. Navy.

The Pilgrim Co. is now seeking quarters in three or four smaller buildings where they will be temporarily located. The plant requires a building with the same amount of floor space as the one they have to vacate.

The furniture concern employs 110 men and had a yearly payroll of $100,000. It has been located in Kingston for 5½ years, and according to Barney R. King, president and general manager, is anxious to continue in this city. In discussing the leasing of some smaller buildings to house the various units of the concern, he said that in order to continue in business successfully it would be of greater advantage to the concern to be housed under one roof instead of scattered about the city, as the overhead costs would be greatly reduced.

Rogers of Saugerties is chairman, has announced a schedule of advertising in Metropolitan area newspapers in addition to the printing of 20,000 folders which will be distributed to advertise the desirability of Ulster county as a vacation area.

An appropriation of $1,000 was voted by the Board of Supervisors to carry on this work. The folders will be ten page pamphlets with a map of Ulster county and information regarding the county as a vacation land.

The advertising contract calls for the insertion of advertisements featuring "Vacation in Ulster County" and will be surrounded by individual hotel and boarding house advertisements to give more prominence. In the Brooklyn Daily Eagle Vacation Guide of June 7, the first advertisement appeared. Others will appear Sunday, June 14, 21 and on July 19 and August 9.

In the Journal-American Vacation Guide of June 14 the first advertisement will appear with others on June 24 and July 19. The New York Times advertisements will appear on Sunday, June 14, in the Vacation Guide and on Sunday, June 14 and 21. Hercules Health For Victory Club Meeting Tuesday nation's war production chief, and other important government officials, Mr. Rochford pointed out, have endorsed the Health for Victory program.

Homemaker's Part

Discussing the homemaker's part in winning the war, Miss Abbruzzese told the club members, "A great part of the responsibility for beating the Japs and Nazis rests on the homemakers—in their kitchens." She explained that it requires seventeen factory workers for each soldier on the firing line, and pointed out the importance of keeping war workers on the job every day, physically able to do their best in producing equipment the fighting forces need.

Miss Abbruzzese emphasized that "It is the food that goes on your dining room table," she said, "that determines the health of our nation, and a healthy America is a strong America."

Approximately $14 a week can be made to produce healthful appetizing meals for a family of five, Miss Abbruzzese stated. She explained that the Health for Victory Club Meal Planning Guide, monthly issues of which will be received by club members, is based on a food budget of that amount, and she demonstrated three meals from the June issue on the platform.

Protective cooking to conserve health-building vitamins and minerals, as recommended in the Health for Victory program, does not require any special make or type of range. All the menus have been planned for preparation with electric, gas, coal, wood or oil ranges, and members are shown how to prepare meals properly using their present ranges and utensils. A month's calendar of menus for every day in each week for three meals a day plus a lunch-box menu—is given in the Meal Planning Guide, with all recipes and cooking directions included. Based on current food prices, the menus are planned to take the best advantages of foods in season and to meet changing wartime food conditions, including rationing. They are worked out in close cooperation with the government agencies directing the nation's wartime food problem.

The nationwide Health for Victory Club program is a non-commercial activity which grew out of a plan initiated by Mrs. Julia Kiene, manager of the Westinghouse Home Economics Institute, especially for war workers in Westinghouse factories. This nutrition program, which was the subject of a feature article in the June American Home magazine, is being publicized nationally in leading women's magazines. It was described in a recent Wake-Up America program over WJZ, and Mrs. Kiene will be a guest speaker on this program Sunday afternoon, June 28. The first Health for Victory Club was organized by her for the Westinghouse plant at Mansfield, Ohio, last February. The idea was soon adopted by other units of the company, and through its success in these factories, has been made available to war industries of all types throughout the nation.

Two to Be Examined Before Being Sentenced

Maurice Jones and Joseph Sheehey who were arrested on May 28 in this city on a charge of sodomy will be examined by physicians as to their mental status before Justice Schirick imposes sentence. The two pleaded guilty when arraigned under an indictment handed up last week. At that time Justice Schirick postponed execution of sentence and when the case came up again on Tuesday afternoon he further postponed the matter.

When Jones appeared in court District Attorney Haver asked that a mental examination be had before sentence was imposed and Justice Schirick agreed. He said Jones had 42 convictions against him, none of which appeared to have been for any serious crime. Jones informed the court that there was one felony charge, larceny, for which he had served two years. Justice Schirick directed a mental examination.

Sheehey, who was involved in the same offense, will also be examined prior to sentence.

Money in Circulation
Washington, June 10 (AP)—Due to a jump of more than $300,000,000 during the month, American money in circulation reached a new record high of $12,072,237,679 in May. The Treasury said this total of coin and currency held outside the treasury and the federal reserve banks equaled $89.84 for every man, woman and child in the nation. This was $2.20 more than in April and $19.55 more than a year ago. No reason was given for the May jump, but it followed increases for several years.

Japanese Making Progress in Drive To Close Gap

Chungking, June 10 (AP)—Fighting 12 miles west of the fiercely defended walled town of Chuhsien was reported today by the high command, indicating that the Japanese had made some progress in their drive to close the 180-mile gap between their forces in Chekiang and Kiangsi provinces.

Fighting continued in Kiangsi province southeast of Nanchang, at the western end of the contested gap. The Chinese reported however, that they captured several more positions in the Nanchang area in attacks intended to divert the Japanese.

The high command said Chinese defense forces frustrated an attempt by "six enemy cruisers" to land Japanese troops on the shore of Poyang Lake, northeast of Nanchang.

(Warships have access to the lake from the Yangtze river).

The situation at Chuhsien itself was left obscure but it was believed the Japanese west of the town had bypassed it and that it still held out against the Japanese assaults, now in their second week.

Chungking, June 10 (AP)—Fighting 12 miles west of the fiercely defended walled town of Chuhsien was reported today by the high command, indicating that the Japanese had made some progress in their drive to close the 180-mile gap between their forces in Chekiang and Kiangsi provinces.

Fighting continued in Kiangsi province southeast of Nanchang, at the western end of the contested gap. The Chinese reported however, that they captured several more positions in the Nanchang area in attacks intended to divert the Japanese.

The high command said Chinese defense forces frustrated an attempt by "six enemy cruisers" to land Japanese troops on the shore of Poyang Lake, northeast of Nanchang.

(Warships have access to the lake from the Yangtze river).

The situation at Chuhsien itself was left obscure but it was believed the Japanese west of the town had bypassed it and that it still held out against the Japanese assaults, now in their second week.

U. S. O. Drive Is Officially Opened By Judge Conway

Support of Region Drive to Aid Servicemen Is Urged in Formal Opening Speech

While many workers opened the 1942 U. S. O. War Fund Campaign Monday to raise $28,500 in Ulster county for aiding our men in the service, and several splendid contributions have already been made, the official opening of the campaign was Tuesday evening when Judge J. Edward Conway, Ulster county chairman, officially opened the drive by presenting a summary of the aims and needs of the U. S. O.

Inducted by Assistant District Attorney Frederick H. Stang, chairman of the speakers' committee, Judge Conway talked over the local radio station.

The drive, which opened on June 8 and will be concluded on July 6, is a part of the national campaign to raise $2,000,000 in a nation-wide drive to provide funds to carry on the work of the U. S. O. among the men of our armed forces which are now scattered throughout the world.

Judge Conway in his opening speech said:

"For the second time within a single generation, civilization is plunged into the chaos of war. War which engulfs the entire world, which reaches out into the heart of every home and strikes without warning, without discrimination and with indescribable horror. Into this abyss of destruction and terror this peaceful nation of ours has been forced. We must answer now by our every word and deed whether we shall emerge to hail a new day of peace when justice and human rights shall be recognized above brutality and greed. We, the American people, have a burden, which fate has cast upon us, heavier and more important than ever rested upon any people any place, any time in the history of the world. Upon the willingness, and the speed, with which we perform the task set before us, rests the future of civilization."

"America, the Haven of Refuge for the oppressed of the world, is threatened with oppression by war-crazed militarists. America, the bulwark of protection against injustice and human slavery, has become the victim of a vicious and unjust attack which threatens her with enslavement. America, the shrine of freedom, has accepted the challenge from the forces of evil and by the heroic deeds and sacrifices of her brave sons will ever remain the Home of the Free."

"We know that our victory is as certain as our cause is just and there remains in doubt the single issue as to when that victory shall come."

To Bring Peace

"The pride of our nation, the flower of the youth of our country, are today determined to bring about the dawn of that glorious day of peace at the earliest possible time. They have given us all that is near and dear to their hearts and stand now ready to make the supreme sacrifice, if need be, that justice and good will may again reign in the hearts of men. From dawn to darkness, with singleness of purpose, they labor to learn the art of war, on land, in the air, on the sea, and under the sea, that success may crown this nation's efforts and peace again smile upon the avocation of men."

"They are the men of our armed forces who so hate militarism that they lend every effort to stamp it out on militarism's own battlefield. They are the clerks and the students, the mechanics and the laborers who make of life only the opportunity, as free men, to work out their destiny, and who strike terror in the hearts of the Axis powers by their courage and daring exploits. They are the men of Bataan Peninsula, of Wake Island, of The American Volunteer Group, of Midway, day in and day out, drill and study and prepare to play the role which they shall be called upon to play when the war shall give them their cue. They are not militarists. They are peaceful, law-abiding, home-loving men. They are the backbone of the future of this great nation—the custodians of the hopes of the world."

"It is in behalf of these men that I wish to talk to you tonight. I know that the good and ever-generous people of Ulster county are anxious to discharge in full measure every obligation on their part to achieve victory. But I am especially anxious in this appeal for contributions to the U. S. O. that you, my friends, should know the great good which you accomplish by your subscriptions."

Cries Reasons

"First, you prove in a tangible way to your son, or your neighbor, that you stand behind him now and for the duration, to help him, to cheer him and to comfort him, when his burden seems unbearable."

"Second, thereby you promote the morale of the bravest army on earth and contribute directly to the victory which lies ahead. I know that is a loyal American citizen, each of you will want to give 'Much Now,' rather than 'Too Little, Too Late.'"

"This is your chance to participate in the work of the United Service Organizations, which is composed of the Y. M. C. A., The Salvation Army, The Y. W. C. A., The National Catholic Community Service, The Jewish Welfare Board, and The Travelers Aid Association. Through this organization, club-rooms and recreation centers are maintained in more than 640 places in the United States and on foreign soil to serve our armed forces. All the facilities of the club-rooms are available to these men whose long

State Guard Slated To Leave for Camp

Members of the three Kingston units of the State Guard will leave Sunday morning for a 10-days' training course at Camp Smith outside Peekskill. The local units consist of Headquarters Company and Companies A and B, under command of Major Carl Preston. The men with their commanding officers, will assemble at the armory early Sunday morning and proceed later to the Rhinebeck ferry and enroute to Rhinecliff for the camp. This will be the first time that a State Guard training camp assembly has been held.

absence from civilian life has started them for the comforts we still enjoy.

"I have before me the letter of a young man from Kingston now in training. I quote in part: 'Away from home it is not easy for soldiers to make good social contacts. The U. S. O. is just the medium for bringing together service men and people anxious to do something for us. My buddies and I have met the most wonderful people through the U. S. O. Committee. There is a dance every Friday night for service men * * * The U. S. O. Club is open every day for playing games, dancing, reading or just relaxing.'"

Quotes From Letter

"Quoting from another letter from a friend of mine now stationed at Fort McClellan. 'I am spending today at the U. S. O. It is a lovely place, like a country club. It is the nearest approach to home life and it is a joy to come here to lounge in a soft chair.'"

"What a little luxury to provide for the man who must, under military discipline, bear the burden of the heat of the day! What a vast satisfaction to know that these simple luxuries are so completely enjoyed by the boys who need them so much!"

"I have shown, baths, reading rooms, games, and lockers, radios, and even home-like conveniences are here made available to our fighting men. Under the U. S. O. they are given a dash of civilian comforts to season the harsh discipline, the monotony and the boredom of military life."

"Let us remember that these brave and courageous defenders of democracy are united by the ties of their heart strings to their families and the circle of their friends from whom the stern necessities of war have separated them. Because they are men whose whole being vibrates with a zest for life, a resurgent flood of fond memories of home frequently subjects them to loneliness and even homesickness. It is the experience that inevitably comes to those who long are deprived of the joys and comforts of home."

In this moment of their need, the U. S. O. brings to them something of home away from home. Here recreation, relaxation and entertainment quickly dissipate the depression which endangers morale."

"In military maneuvers and at lonely distant posts, U. S. O. follows the colors with mobile units equipped to supply our forces with refreshments, movies, mail service, and many other little things which count so much."

"This briefly is the work which your generous contributions in the past have initiated. This is the work we must carry on and expand. This is the purpose for which I ask my good fellow citizens of Ulster county to contribute the sum of $28,500, the quota assigned to us. This is why I am confident that you will be generous. This is your chance to serve by giving to them who give all and never count the cost, who fight and heed not their wounds, who toil and seek not rest, who labor and know no reward save only the knowledge that they have done their duty, and that willingly, graciously and unstintingly. This is why I ask you to be generous and kind to the canvasser who will call for your donation to the cause of freedom. This is why I ask you to remember that 'You help someone you know, when you give to the U. S. O.'"

To Hold Saratoga Races

New York, June 10 (AP)—The board of directors of the Saratoga Race Track decided today to hold the Saratoga meeting on the scheduled dates, July 27 to August 29, in spite of gasoline and tire rationing and a growing transportation problem. George H. Bull, president of the Spa track, told the directors he hoped details would be worked out later to have the meeting run in the usual way. "Chief problem at the moment, in addition to the motor transportation of the usual New York city fans who make the more-than-100-mile trip to the Spa, is a substitute for the weekly special train from Manhattan to Saratoga. This was placed on the banned list several days ago."

Long Respiration Applied by Group Keeps Man Alive

Jay, Okla., June 10 (AP)—Artificial respiration applied by friends who have labored unceasingly for five months—night and day—has kept the spark of life burning in Mason Williams, 49-year-old school teacher.

To stop pumping breath into his wasted body would mean a strangling, suffocating death.

Dr. Frank Veroni, Jay physician, said Williams was suffering from ankyroplethral lateral sclerosis, a disease causing degeneration of nerve tracts leading from the spinal cord to the muscles.

Its first effect, he said, was paralysis of the muscles of the hands and shoulders. Late, it attacked the muscles used in breathing and swallowing.

When Williams began to lose control of his respiratory system, artificial respiration was applied. Some of his friends volunteered to help and for five months they have kept at it, working in relays.

Dr. Veroni said Williams' ability to breathe has been impaired about 75 per cent. Without artificial respiration he cannot speak or swallow.

When he is sitting upright, his friends labor over him constantly. When he sleeps they sometimes are able to stop for about an hour at a time. Then he begins to choke and respiration must be resumed.

"We've been blessed with wonderful friends," said Mrs. Williams, who is worn and haggard after the long ordeal but still hopeful that a way may be found to save her husband.

Recently, she said, he was taken to an Oklahoma City Hospital and placed in an iron lung but immediately began to choke and had to be removed.

His weight has dropped from 150 to 87 pounds and doctors hold out no hope for his recovery.

But his friends say they'll keep on pumping until death ends their labors.

Mrs. Williams said her husband did not react successfully to the iron lung because he was worn out by his trip, "and was afraid that something might go wrong and that he would be left down there by himself. I really believe that if we had an iron lung here and these same friends could operate it for him, that it might work."

'Atrocious' High Heels

Indianapolis, June 10 (AP)—Women's "atrocious" high heels are an accident hazard, says Mrs. Clara M. Beyer of the U. S. Department of Labor, Washington. The high heels are the biggest factor in falls, which cause 50 per cent of women's industrial accidents, Mrs. Beyer told the Industrial Safety Club last night. Mrs. Beyer said women should be allowed an "extra touch of color" somewhere "if they were expected to wear uniforms in industrial establishments. Women like to be a 'little different from the girl at the next machine.'"

Worse Than Death

Hartford, Conn., June 10 (AP)—The State Supreme Court ruled today that a youth who became insane after an automobile accident was entitled to $25,000 damages, the tribunal asserting that the injury was "as serious as any that could be imagined and was certainly worse than death." The youth, Walter Byczynski of Rockville, was 20 years old when the accident occurred in Manchester on April 12, 1940. 9 years later, he was admitted to the Norwich State Hospital for the Insane, and the court said that he would remain there for the rest of his life.

The treasury department has promised to make available to the retailers 100,000,000 new stamp albums when the campaign gets under way July 1.

Bigger Assassinations For Occupied Countries

Bern, Switzerland, June 10 (AP)—With 275 Czechs already slain in retaliation, the Germans made known today that the assassination of Reinhard Heydrich would mark the beginning of new, sweeping punitive measures not only in dismembered Czechoslovakia throughout all the rest of occupied countries.

Continuing attacks against occupation armies in the north, west and east confront Germany with a potential second or third front and require vigorous counteraction, dispatches from Berlin said.

Prague, Paris, Amsterdam, and all Poland and Yugoslavia were regarded here as likely to feel the effects of the increased death penalties.

Executions up to now have been averaging ten a day in occupied France. Czechs have been shot in groups of 25 or more at a time since the attack which took the life of Heydrich, Gestapo hanger-on who became acting Reichsprotektor of Bohemia and Moravia.

No Confirmation Messages

Washington, June 10 (AP)—For reasons of national security the Office of Censorship asked business firms and individuals today to give up the practice of sending by mail confirmation copies of telegrams, cablegrams, radiograms and telephone messages between the United States and foreign countries.

Byron Price, director of censorship, announced that henceforth all confirmation messages found in the international cables would be returned to the sender or suppressed.

New York, June 10 (AP)—American Telephone led an irregular decline in today's stock market.

The communications leader gave up about four points on an early slide before the stock received effective support. Losses ran from one to around two in Westinghouse, Bethlehem Steel and Eastman Kodak. Most other key issues were fractionally lower near the fourth hour.

Telephone's sharp retreat was associated with yesterday's late announcement of a cut in the Western Electric Co. dividend. It added to the list of Bell subsidiaries which have reduced payments this year and tended to revive discussion on the security of the parent company's $9 annual dividend. The latter voted the usual $2.25 quarterly disbursement early in May.

Ruling moderately lower most of the time were U. S. Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Woolworth, General Electric, and American Smelting.

Bonds were down and commodities mixed.

Class Is Graduated At St. Ursula's

The annual commencement exercises were held yesterday afternoon at the Academy of St. Ursula at which fifteen young women received their diplomas of graduation. They are the Misses Mary E. Bodenweber, Mary Jane Davis, Catherine J. Enright, Anna May Falatyn, Marie E. Flynn, Jane S. Holcomb, Mary L. Keating, Olive A. Lewis, Jacqueline A. Maisenhelder, Patricia G. McCabe, Rita A. Murphy, Rose M. Ortale, Constance M. Purvis, Oralee J. Remmert, Elizabeth M. Schoonmaker.

The address to the graduates was given by the Rev. Cornelius J. Drew of St. Paul's parish in New York city. He impressed upon his audience the importance of religion in lives both as individuals and in a nation governed by democracy.

He praised the graduates and the school system from which they had been graduated. Religious schools were among the first; and the early universities in America were founded for religious purposes. He believes that students must be taught religion along with other lessons to have a well-rounded education.

By the constitution the church and state were made separate institutions in America and it could not be otherwise in a democracy. The Rev. Father Drew stated but he also added that it was not meant to discourage teaching of God in the subjects of the secular schools. Democracy is founded on religion with the idea that everyone is born equal and has the right to the "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

During the last war people prayed for the safe return of the fighting men but in this one, people must pray for a just peace following the final victory, he said. Through the principles of religion hatred for the enemies must be dispelled. The women must learn to make great sacrifices during the days to come but the young women who have been graduated from the academy will have the advantage of being trained in discipline and strong religious beliefs to face the situations, he said. Although the nation prays that God will help them win the final victory, the Rev. Father believes it is much more important for people to be on God's side than to ask him to come on their side.

The Very Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury, P.R.V.F., in his address of congratulations to the members of the class gave two scriptural quotations for successful living. In the first consideration "Honor thy father and thy mother" is the main axiom. Young people must learn to take advice from their parents who have years of experience to back their statements.

In the second place, each should consider, "What shall a man give in exchange for his soul?" Going out into the world the young women must learn to measure the true value of situations in life and learn which will bring success and happiness. In following the religious principles which they have learned may mean giving up the chance of becoming socially prominent or wealthy but the success in life is not measured by the outward appearance, he said. In closing, he urged all to have freedom under God only by selling their souls to no one but God.

The exercises were held in the garden of the academy this year, with the chairs for the audience arranged under the trees and the stage decorated with bouquets of syringa. The American flag and the flag of the academy were displayed on either side of the platform.

The chorus of the school joined by the members of the graduating class sang several selections during the program. These numbers were "Guard Well Thy Trust, America," by Robert W. Gibb; "The Arrow and the Song" by Ciro Pinsuti; "Psalm 150" by Cesar Franck and in conclusion the national anthem.

Woman Wants to Know What to Do at Wedding of Her Stepdaughter

A woman sends me a question about her stepdaughter's wedding. At the end of a letter explaining that her stepdaughter, while very fond of her mother and father both, has been living alone since her parents' divorce. She writes:

"Judy spends many of her week-ends, first with her mother and then here with us, but she lives in a small apartment of her own near the office where she works. Her father is giving her the reception and he will also give her away. Her mother no longer lives in this neighborhood, but she is known to everyone here and is coming to the wedding. So may I ask you: (1) Where shall I sit in church, and with whom? (2) Does my husband sit next to me after giving the bride away? (3) Shall I go to the reception (both my husband and the bride say 'positively yes')? (4) Shall I receive at the reception, or shall my husband receive alone, or shall he ask his first wife to stand with him? (5) If his ex-wife receives what shall I do? (6) and what about our names on the invitations? (7) What shall I wear?"

(1) In about the fourth pew on the bride's side, meaning by this, the bride's mother will be in the first pew with her relatives. In the second, some of your husband's relatives separating your husband from the now occupied by his first wife. (2) Yes. (3) Yes. (4) Since your husband is giving the reception, you therefore are the proper hostess, you and he should receive together. In this case he should stand nearest to the door and you second. (5) The bride's mother should receive by herself in another part of the room beyond the bride party group. On no account should you separate your husband from the head of the wedding invitations, and yours and his together on the cards to the reception. (6) Wear a very simple dress with a hat and gloves. If the bridegroom's mother is to receive with you, it would be well to consult with her whether you will both wear long or short skirts because it will look better to have them alike.

When Shall I Pick Up My Napkin

Dear Mrs. Post: Is one supposed to immediately pick up one's napkin and put it across one's lap, or wait awhile?

Answer: In a private house, pick it up at once. In a restaurant you usually wait until there is some evidence that your food is about to be served, but this last is not important.

If you're puzzled about any point of correct table setting, you'll want to read Emily Post's booklet, "The Etiquette of Table Setting." Recreations Play Brooklyn Dodger Rookies Here Tonight

Local Club Seeks Fourth Victory of Present Campaign

Dick Whitesell, College Tosses, Will Pitch for Kingston; Games Starts at 9 P. M.

Manager Joe Hoffman's Kingston Recreations who have still to play a game since their night debut under the stadium lights May 30, will try it again tonight at 9 o'clock when Turk Karam's Brooklyn Dodger Rookies invade the local ball park for an arclight attraction.

One of the best turnouts of the season is anticipated for tonight's struggle as local fans are eager to see the Rookies back again after two impressive showings here last year and also to see the Rees try for their fourth victory in five starts. The lone defeat was handed to them by the Bushwicks.

Manager Hoffman announced last night that he will start Dick Whitesell, Kingston's regular right fielder on the mound tonight. Whitesell has just completed a successful season at Syracuse University where he hurled the Orange club to impressive victories over Cornell and Colgate. Bill Thomas will be ready for any relief duty, if need be.

Ashtown Leaves Soon

The war situation is beginning to hit the Rees again as Jimmy Ashtown, left fielder, will leave with the next group of selectees Monday morning. Ashtown, however, will be with the club tonight and probably Sunday night. The club also announced that Howie Breslin, third baseman, will not be with them any more this year as he has accepted a defense job in Newark. The Rees hope to land a "hot corner" representative for tonight's struggle.

It may be Frankie Claffone, the sensational 17-year-old high school singer on the hill for the Dodgers tonight. Claffone has the makings of a big league hurler and fans who flock to the stadium tonight will see this young fellow in uniform prior to his connection with a major league team which will probably come in the next few weeks. Tom Dolan and Jimmy Gleason are other possible hurlers for the Brooks.

Fans who have seen the Dodgers play remark that their actions are practically the same as any major league club. "It's a real treat for any spectator to see this club play," remarked a New York reporter recently, "as they have all the color of a big league team has." In two games here last year the Rees and Rookies drew two fine turnouts. Tonight's attendance should be as good or even better.

Art Dede, former Brooklyn Dodger catcher, is the field manager of the Brooks with Turk Karam as the business head. Karam also is expected to put in an appearance tonight. Dede, greeted with plenty of newcomers this year, has built up another fine ball club which has won 12 out of 14 games this season.

Spectators Here Sunday

Sunday night's attraction at the stadium will be the Jersey City Blue Sox managed by Joe Blumetti, one of the most widely known figures in semi-pro ball today. George "Lefty" Purcell is the Blue Sox No. 1 hurler and it is definite that Purcell will start against the Rees. He formerly hurled for the Macon Peaches of the Sally League.

White Sox Drop to Eighth Place; Smith Loses Again Despite His Two-Hit Game

Gordon Continues Streak as Yankees Turn Back Tigers; Trout Stops Buddy Hassett

(By The Associated Press)

Special "days" for ball players have been frowned upon in the major leagues this year because of the war, but in the spirit of fair play the American League should quickly set aside an "Ed Smith Day" and instead of presenting him a rowwide suitcase or a set of matched teapots give him a guaranteed non-disappearing victory.

The stout, blond southpaw, who was one of the leading pitchers in the league last year, has lost ten games this season without winning one and last night at Philadelphia he bumped into the most baffling setback of all.

He held the Athletics to two hits and yet was beaten 2 to 0 as the Chicago White Sox slumped into last place in the standings.

Trouble in Second

In the second inning Bob Johnson led off with a double. Dick Siebert walked and when Smith threw too late to catch Johnson at third after fielding Buddy Blair's bunt, the bases were loaded. One run trickled across on a double play. Then with one down in the fifth Pete Suder walked, reached second on an infield out, advanced to third as pitcher Bob Harris scratched a single to deep short and scored when Luke Appling threw the ball wide to first.

In the eighth inning Joe Haynes, who hasn't lost a game, took up the burden from his teammate who hadn't won. But the White Sox were unable to stir up their usual rally for Haynes, although they made two of their seven hits off Harris in the ninth.

The New York Yankees contributed another change to the American League standings by beating Detroit 4 to 1 and knocking the Tigers out of second place. Rookie Hank Borowy pitched four-hit ball to achieve his fourth consecutive victory and Joe Gordon extended his hitting streak to 26 games while Buddy Hassett's string was halted at 20 games by Paul (Dizzy) Trout.

The Boston Red Sox took advantage of the opportunity to move ahead of Detroit with a 7 to 4 triumph over the rugged St. Louis Browns. Bobby Doerr led the Red Soxers with four hits, including a homer and a double, and regained the league's batting leadership with .390.

Five Washington errors, two of them by a rookie second baseman named Ellis Clary brought up last week from Chattanooga, helped the Cleveland Indians gain a 7 to 6 decision against the Senators in a 10-inning night game at the capital. Shutout relief pitching by Chubby Dean for the last three innings and his single to open the tenth also helped.

Giants Top Reds

The Brooklyn Dodgers' night game at St. Louis was postponed until tomorrow night, limiting National League activity to two games.

At Cincinnati each team was held to five hits but the New York Giants curbed the Reds 3 to 1. Bill Lohman of the Giants pitched shutout ball except for rookie Ray Lamanno's seventh-inning homer, while his teammates linked two walks, two hits and an error to score all their runs in the first inning—routing Junior Thompson in the process.

At Pittsburgh the Pirates supplanted Boston in fifth place by beating the Braves 10 to 2. It was the eighth straight loss for Casey Stengel's crew, which was subdued on nine hits by Ken Heintzleman. The Buccaneers bunched four runs in the first inning and five in the eighth.

Sam Fisher Hurls Minasiens to 3 to 0 Win Over Lilies

Winning Pitcher Allows One Hit and Fans 12 to Give Minasiens First Place

With young Sam Fisher just missing the hall of fame by throwing a one-hit game last night, Minasiens took over undisputed possession of first place in the City Baseball League by defeating the Swamp Lilies by the tune of 3 to 0. It was the third straight victory for the Minasiens.

Fisher was robbed of his entry into the select circle of no-hit flingers in the seventh inning when Bosco, third baseman of the Swamp Lilies, slapped a single into left field. However, Fisher did hurl the whitewashing and fanned 12 batters in the bargain. Only three men reached first as he was in control throughout the contest.

Herbie Williams toed the slab for the Lilies and pitched acceptable ball, allowing nine bingles to the winners. In the third inning the Minasiens pushed in two runs when Brown, Lindhorst, Slight and Hughes slapped out singles. A long fly and a fielder's choice helped in the rally. Hits by A. Barnes and S. Barnes and an error gave the Minasiens their final run in the sixth.

Hercules Will Face Fitz Tossers Tonight at Hasbrouck; Starts at 6:15 P.M.

Although the City Softball League is the smallest it has ever been competition and a better brand of ball has never been equalled in the league.

During the first six games played to-date four of them have been decided by only one run. Response for these games have not been as great as it should be. The games are played Monday and Wednesday at Hasbrouck Park.

Tonight Hercules will face a revamped Fitz Liquor team at 6:45 o'clock at Hasbrouck Park. Both teams are laden with batting power so a real slugfest awaits the muddball lovers who attend the game.

To date Hiltebrants are leading the league with two victories without a setback but are being radically pressed by a strong Y. M. C. outfit who are out to oust the boatmen from the league lead.

Following are the standings to date:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Hiltebrants	2	0	1.000
Y. M. C. A.	2	1	.667
Hercules	1	1	.500
Electrols	1	2	.333
Fitz	0	2	.000

Dykes Is Fined
As if it wasn't bad enough for his club to be in last place in the American League standings, Manager Jimmy Dykes of the Chicago White Sox was fined $250 by President Will Harridge of the American League. Harridge defined the fine for "his conduct and deliberate stalling tactics" in the second game of a double-header at Boston last Sunday. Bill Dietrich, Chicago pitcher, also was fined $25 for "conduct and language used umpire."

Says America's Greatest Trial to Come With Peace

Denver, Colo., June 10 (AP)—

Declaring excessive inflation more dangerous than war, New York's insurance superintendent predicted today America's hour of "greatest trial" will come "with peace and the demobilization of our armies and x x x war industries."

Louis H. Pink, attending the National Association of Insurance Commissioners Convention, asserted in a prepared address before the Kiwanis Club.

"A runaway inflation would be more dangerous to our economy and to the stability of government than war itself. It would deal particularly harshly with life insurance policyholders and those who have money in the savings bank."

"The inflation in Germany," he cited, "had much to do with the creation of a Hitler and the conditions which brought about this x x x struggle."

"The aim for victory and for self-preservation will carry us through the war in unity. But with peace and the demobilization of our armies and of our war industries will come our greatest national trial."

Perished of Thirst On Arizona Desert

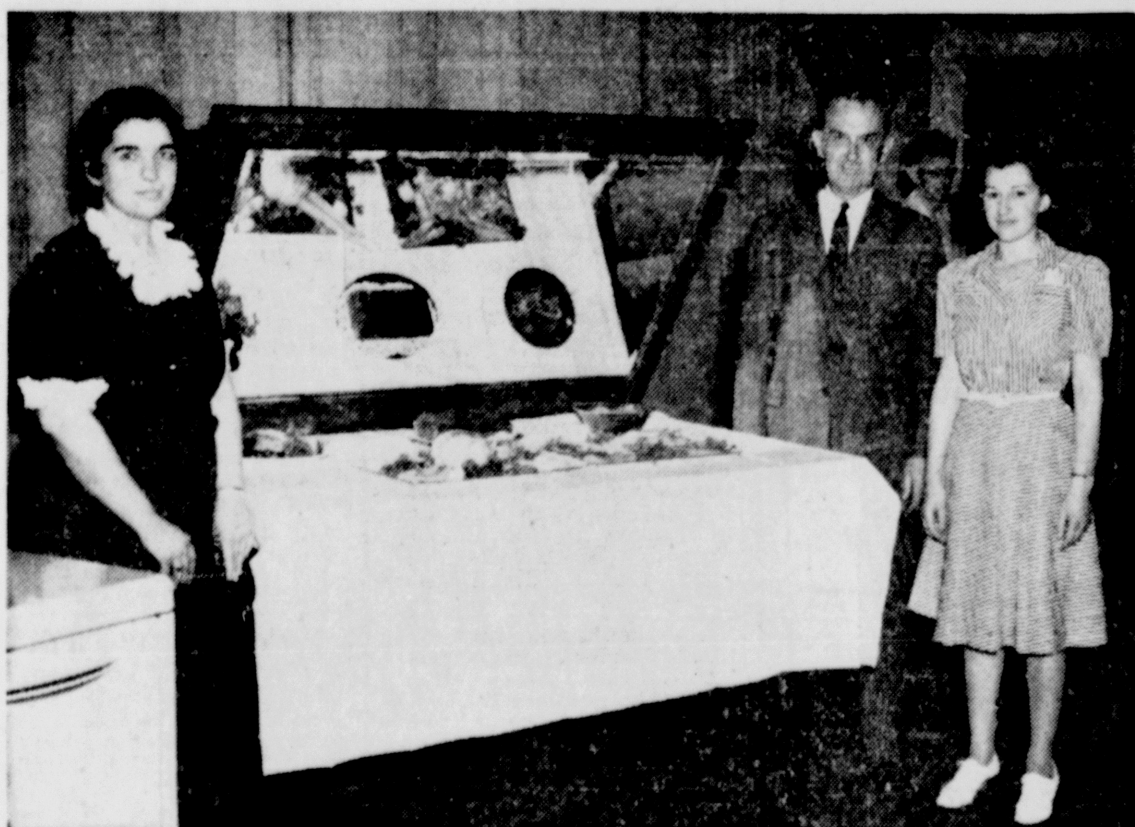

Kingman, Ariz., June 10 (AP)—Benjamin Pierce Cheney, 76-year-old financier and social leader of Boston, perished of thirst on the northwestern Arizona desert after a futile, desperate, 20-mile trek in quest of water.

Had he walked an equal distance in the opposite direction from his stalled motor car, E. E. Wilson, ex-officio coroner said, Cheney would have reached water in time to save his life.

He evidently had been dead four days when a cowboy, Lee Eaton, found his body yesterday. An empty canteen nearby told the story of Cheney's last hours.

Gold Star Mothers Welcome Mothers Of Second War

By AMY PORTER

New York, June 10 (AP)—The gold star mothers of World War I today prepared to bring be- loved mothers of World War II into their organization.

Some of them wept as they heard Mrs. Gertrude Kram, tell how her son, Leonard, died when his ship was torpedoed in February.

"He was so young," said Mrs. Kram, "only 18, but after Pearl Harbor he wanted to join the navy and his father and I consented."

"My son was 18, too," said Gold Star Mother Jennie J. Doyle, "but that was 25 years ago."

Mother Balcom—as everyone calls Mrs. Emma L. Balcom, national president—interrupted kindly:

"But we don't believe in too much mourning, do we Mrs. Kram? You'll find that life goes on and knowing other mothers will help."

The gold star mothers, organized after World War I for mothers whose sons died fighting for their country, are in convention here, their first wartime meeting.

First business is consideration of a resolution admitting this war's mothers to the group.

Mrs. Kram of New York was the first "new" mother to apply for membership.

The government has approved the organization's gold-starred black sleeve band as the official badge of mourning for this war, Mrs. Balcom said.

Some 750 mothers are expected to attend the convention which will last through the week.

Phoenicia Named For Air Lookout

Tower Will Be Manned by Village Workers

The First Interceptor Command, represented in this region by Deputy State Civil Director Harry Kirchner and District Civil Director Eugene P. MacConnell, have chosen Phoenicia as a permanent site for an air observation tower to function under the set-up of the aircraft warning service.

Both civil officials were highly elated with the enthusiastic co-operation by the town board and their readiness and willingness to finance the essential details involved in manning the tower.

That citizens of Phoenicia stand ready to give voluntary service so that uninterrupted "sky-watch" may be maintained, is expressed by the patriotic action of the Phoenicia Hotel Corporation through the offices of the president, Mr. Donaldson, and its manager, Mrs. Lasher, who have granted the use of the hotel roof so that Phoenicia's observation tower may have accessible quarters. It will be known as A.W.S. Post 950.

William P. Malloy, connected with the State Highway Department and a member of the Board of Education, has been appointed as chief air observer.

Mr. Malloy will organize his force of observers enlisting all available men and women so that a 24-hour watch may be maintained. Each and every observer, stated Mr. Malloy, has a vital role in this function. He is the eyes and ears of a strong interceptor air force which is designed to protect our vital industries and our civilian population.
